WOMEN'S RIGHTS AND THE CONSTITUTION DISCUSSED AT LA JOLLA/RIFORD BRANCH LIBRARY

Ongoing Library Civic Programs to Foster Public Conversation about the Constitution

SAN DIEGO – The San Diego Public Library will host a Book Discussion on Media and the U.S. Constitution on Tuesday, October 16, 2012 at 6:00 p.m. at the La Jolla/Riford Branch Library, located at 7555 Draper Avenue in San Diego. Anne Hoiberg, President & CEO of the International Museum of Human Rights, will facilitate. It is being presented in conjunction with the four month project, Searching for Democracy: A Public Conversation about the Constitution.

This is one of ten focused book discussions featuring The Penguin Guide to the United States Constitution: A Fully Annotated Declaration of Independence, U.S. Constitution and Amendments, and Selections from the Federalist Papers by Richard Beeman that will take place in select San Diego branch libraries. Topics will range from race and gender to faith and religion, dissent, and education and the arts. All the book discussions will be led by professionals and scholars from area universities and institutions. Please see schedules, locations and themes below:

Searching for Democracy will bring together people from diverse backgrounds to attend and discuss the Constitution at programs including lectures, book discussions, films, digital stories, and performance. Young and old, rich and poor, new citizens and long-term residents will have the opportunity to openly explore the understanding of our American heritage and citizenry. The endeavor will also afford individual library patrons a greater understanding of the Library’s vast collection of Constitution related titles and digital resources.
